Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy is Home- Made

Easily Prepared in a Few Minutes. Cheap but Unequalled.

Some people are constantly annoyed from one year's end to the other with a persistent bronchial cough, which is wholly unnecessary. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make you wonder what became of it. Get 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any drugist, pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that never thought would end. It also loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflammation in a painful cough with remarkable rapidity. Ordinary coughs are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, winter coughs and bronchial asthma.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup mixture makes a full pint—enough to last a family a long time—at a cost of only 54 cents. Keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly. Easily prepared. Full directions with Pinex.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in ginseng, and is famous the world over for its ease, certainty and promptness in overcoming bad coughs, chest and throat colds.

Get the genuine. Ask your drugist for 2½ ounces Pinex, and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne.

A CARD OF THANKS.

We desire in this humble way to express our heart felt gratitude to our many friends for the very kind expressions of love and sympathy manifested in so many ways in our recent bereavement caused by the illness and death of our wife and mother. Words are inadequate to fully convey our very deep appreciation. Our sincere prayer is that God may richly reward and bless you.

SHIELDS DEAD

In Colorado as Result of Injuries Received in an Auto-Bicycle Collision.

Word has been received here that Cecil H. Shields, a former Harrison county man, received injuries in an accident in Colorado recently from which he died the next day. Mr. Shields was a son of the widow of George Shields, of Bridgeport. He was a private in the United States recruiting service, and was stationed at Fort Logan, Colo. It appears that while he was riding a bicycle the latter came into collision with an automobile driven by the wife of Lieutenant A. M. Graham of the recruiting service. As Mr. Shields approached the automobile he became confused. Mrs. Graham who is said to be an expert driver drove her machine into a ditch to avoid accident but failed. The body of Mr. Shields was taken to Missoula, Mont., where it was interred.

Mr. Shields had been in the recruiting service eight years. He leaves his mother, six brothers and five sisters.

COFFEE DWARFS CHILDREN

PHYSICALLY---MENTALLY

Prominent School Workers Assert Coffee Drinking School Children are Underweight, Underdeveloped and Backward in Studies.

The State Board of Health of Texas has been making inquiries into the effects of coffee upon school children. "Children who drink coffee for breakfast," says one report, "come to school exhilarated, they work strenuously in the morning, and are overflowing with energy and vitality. BUT THEY DO NOT LAST under the school routine; they become fatigued more quickly than the other pupils, and by the close of school in the afternoon they are exhausted to the point of stupidity. They are nervous and therefore unstable in their deportment."

It has also been found by other investigators that "children who drink coffee averaged from one and one-half to more than four pounds less in weight, and from one-half inch to more than one inch less in height, than the children who abstained from coffee. They were also found to have an average of three pounds less in hand strength than the children who never drank coffee."

NOTE—Many parents have found it to their children's advantage to give them Instant Postum as the hot morning beverage instead of coffee. This delicious food-drink resembles coffee in looks and flavor, but is entirely free from the disturbing coffee drug, caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient—Advertisement.

ANOTHER BIG APPLE.

It has been the pleasure of the Telegram to call public attention to a number of big apples grown this year by residents of Harrison county and there is no longer any doubt as to the adaptation of this county to apple culture. And now it gives this newspaper more pleasure to note the fact that it has in its possession a large King apple, a magnificent specimen of an early winter fruit. It measures fourteen and one-half inches in circumference and was grown by John T. Young, of Salem, on his farm on Hall's run.

SEARCH

For Train Bandits Still Continue without Any Definite Results Thus Far.

Although nothing has developed of a definite character in the search for the bandits who held up the Baltimore and Ohio train at Central recently, General Superintendent Edmund Leigh of the Baltimore and Ohio police department from Baltimore is still on the ground directing the investigation.

Mr. Leigh says it is necessarily a slow and tedious matter in the endeavor to unravel the case, and the investigation up to this time has to some degree been one of elimination in removing from the search those whom it has been thought would be capable of pulling off a robbery of this character. In some instances of this character it had been found that one man being investigated was already in jail at some distant point and by reason of that fact could not have been implicated.

RABBI SILVER WILL SPEAK AT SERVICES

To Be Held by Reformed Temple of Jews in the Masonic Temple Friday Night.

The Reformed Temple Emmanuel of this city will hold its next fortnightly services at 8 o'clock sharp the coming Friday evening, in the Masonic temple. Rabbi Maxwell Silver will officiate and preach. The subject of Rabbi Silver's address will be "Israel and the Nations."

On the first fortnightly services of Temple Emmanuel on Friday evening, October 9, Rabbi Silver addressed an excellently attended and enthusiastic congregation on "A First Lesson in the Modern Interpretation of the Bible."

"The Bible," Rabbi Silver said, "is the most misunderstood collection of books in creation, which accounts for its being so incomparably misused and abused." He emphasized the

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

fact that the Bible is not one book written by one person at one time, but is a collection of a great number of books, produced during a thousand years of Israel's history, written and compiled by hundreds of Israel's prophets and sages, which fact again accounts for the Bible's various spiritual and ethical heights of its teachings. Also, the Bible must not be studied primarily as a book of history, though here and there it relates history; or as a book of science, although here and there it makes scientific observations, which may or may not agree with modern science, but is to be studied primarily, for such was also the primary intention of its many seers, as a book containing mainly religious and moral enlightenment, which is there uniquely taught by many great souls through the medium of history, legend and myth. When so approached, Rabbi Silver declared, one will no longer impugn the supreme religious and ethical value of the Bible; because, the fact that many of its historical and scientific observations do not agree with modern knowledge does not in the least militate against its great fundamental religious and ethical truths and ideals with which its seers were primarily interested; moreover, such a correct approach will obviate the superfluous hairsplitting attempts at the so-called harmonizations of the Bible and science. When so approached the Bible will be cherished and honored as the greatest religious and moral treasure of present and future humanity.

The members of the congregation extend their urgent invitation to their next services to all their Jewish as well as non-Jewish friends.

will be given, so it is now time to get the subscriptions to get the votes. If your baby is in the lead now you cannot be idle, for the subscriptions turned in between now and the end of the campaign will make the winners of the $1,600 in gold.

Success at the end now means work-perseverance, day after day—work right through until the final gong is sounded. Confidence and effective determination—these are the qualities of which winners are made.

The natural preference for the Telegram and the readiness of their friends with their help have supplied the encouragement to build up confidence and strength.

A little while in the race and they hit their stride. Then nothing can stop them. No difficulty is so great that they can not surmount it—no obstacle so large that they cannot take their laughing way around it. They accomplish things—because they have developed the will to accomplish them. The will to do that is the factor. Where the parents have a will you can figure on their baby as a winner.

The prizes offered will repay the parents and supporters of the babies a thousand fold for their effort in the remaining days of the competition. But don't dream away your time for there are only eleven working days to get subscriptions. Now is the time to put forth that extra effort.

but was told that his scheme was impracticable. He then went to the manager of the Sedalia line, whose office he was asked to leave when his project became known.

Nothing daunted, McCoy went out on the line of the Union Pacific, then nearing completion, and selected Abilene as the northern terminus of the long trail he selected to establish. The railroad refusing to act, he built stockyards capable of holding 3,000 head of cattle and erected such crude buildings as he thought would be needed.

At the head of a party of surveyors he proceeded to lay out and mark the trail, leading south from Abilene across the prairies of Kansas, the then Indian Territory, the Texas Panhandle and into the center of that state—a distance of nearly 1,000 miles. On the cattle plains he and his agents rode from ranch to ranch in an effort to induce the owners to try the experiment of sending their herds north. During 1867 the first of the great migrations took place, 35,000 head reaching Abilene and being shipped thence to the eastern markets. McCoy's compensation came from a small commission, which the railroad finally agreed to allow him on each car of cattle shipped, an arrangement which endured but a short time.

building of railroads into the cattle country, the greatest movement of livestock ever known in history took place over the McCoy trail. McCoy engaged in business at Abilene and became the first mayor of the town, which was noted for its turbulence. One of his official acts was the appointment of "Wild Bill" Hickok to the position of marshal. Hickok, renowned as a frontiersman, is said to have killed forty-five men at Abilene in efforts to establish order.

McCoy continued in the cattle business almost to the end of his life, his interests being centered at Wichita, Kan., for many years. In 1874 he published a book, entitled, "Historical Sketches of the Cattle Trade of the West and Southwest."
